The New Job Search

Looking for a job is not what it was even a few years ago. Successful job seekers understand a new type of job search is required in this new economy.

This 2 day program with follow-up coaching support will provide you with a complete system to clarify your next steps in your job search with confidence.

If you are anxious to get started and want to move through the preparation phase quickly this is the program for you. Follow up coaching will provide accountability to keep you on track.

Heather Bradley is an amazing coach. Her technical skills combine with great intuitive sense to give her fantastic insight to her clients. She was able to help bring tremendous clarity to work I was doing and helped hold me accountable to reach the goals I set for the coachin. Highest of recommendations!
